Michael Cooper, SOY 2020/21

Student of the Year - Michael Cooper

POPLAR, MONTANA – February 12, 2021, Fort Peck Community College is pleased to announce Michael Cooper as the Student of the Year for 2020/21! Michael embodies the Buffalo Chaser spirit and values during his time at FPCC. He demonstrates a strong commitment to academics while balancing family and community responsibilities. Michael is one of 37 students from across the country as being a Tribal College and Student of the Year for the 2020/21 Academic Year!

“I have lived in Poplar all my life I never knew what the Fort Peck community College had to offer, since starting college for the second time I have been given countless opportunities to achieve what I set out to do. Getting my degree will hopefully inspire my family and friends to finish or go back to school and know that it is never too late. My hopes are that my children are inspired by me and are willing to put forth the effort to go to college and achieve their dreams. I want the community to know that the college has many resources available to help you achieve your educational goals no matter what the situation is.” - Michael Cooper, FPCC 2020/21 Student of the Year
